

FOR SECOND LIFE MERCHANTS

More than a vendor system.

Keep the vendors you already have.
Plurion connects everything around them, on the web and in your pocket.

- Effortless migration
- Exclusive features
- Modern architecture

01 Black Friday in one click

One discount across every product, dated. It puts itself back on Monday.

03 Change the system. Keep the vendors.

Converts on the spot: same prim, same photo, same place.

05 Real support, not IMs you lose

Tickets carry the product concerned. One inbox, for you and your team.

02 They own the sneakers. Offer the hoodie.

The right buyers get the right price at checkout, no code to remember.

04 Your online shop builds itself

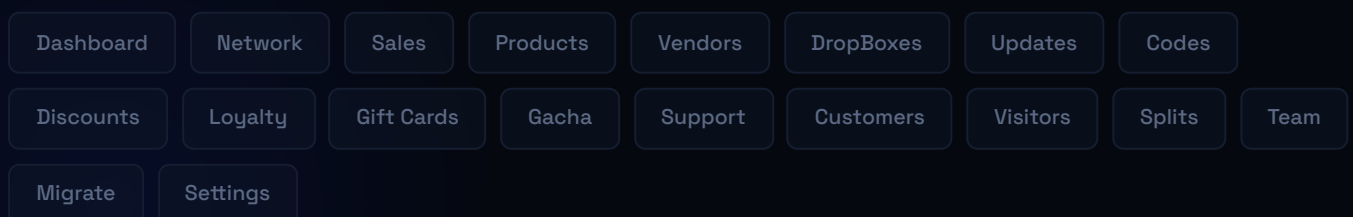

Create a product and it's in there. Paid with store credit, delivered in-world.

06 Know your conversion rate

Who walked in, who came back, and which ones actually bought.

...and the rest of the dashboard.

ABOUT PLURION — READY TO QUOTE

Plurion is a security-first commerce system for Second Life merchants. It connects the vendors a merchant already runs — delivery, support, analytics, marketing and a public commerce network — on the web and on mobile. It was built by Vox Bachman, a merchant selling in Second Life since 2005, as the system he spent twenty years wishing existed.
